The Policy Studies Organization, the American Public University System, and the International Journal on Criminology invite you to submit a proposal for the upcoming International Criminology Conference 2024 that aims to promote interdisciplinary dialogue about topics related to criminology in its broadest context, including causes, consequences both on a micro and macro level, control, and prevention. The event brings together social leaders, policymakers, NGOs, business and academics from a variety of backgrounds.

Papers, round-tables, and panels are invited. We seek proposals based on the multidisciplinary study of the criminal phenomenon, using the humanities and social science to understand the crime, the criminal, the victim, criminality, and society's reaction to crime. Proposals should aim to take rigorous and critical approaches to criminality and incorporate risk prevention and risk management strategies that consider the dynamics of crime and the ethical and political stakes surrounding it. Papers and panels are invited as well on gun control, including the role of NRA and issues on a state and municipal level.

TO SUBMIT A PROPOSAL:

Please email a written proposal (1–2 pages) or a topic you would like to discuss to the PSO Executive Director Daniel Gutierrez at dgutierrez@ipsonet.org. Short videos are also accepted in lieu of a written proposal.

The early deadline for submissions is July 15th, 2024.
